

COUNTY'S WAR RECORD MUST BE MAINTAINED

Statistics Show Portage County Must Go Over Top in Next Loan to Save Reputation

"Finish the Job." That slogan, adopted for the forthcoming "Victory" Liberty loan, is particularly applicable to Portage county, whose patriotic record, which was so marked during the war, can be maintained only by going over the top in the forthcoming campaign.

Portage county, like many others, fell down in the first loan, largely through lack of organization. However, it came back so strongly in the next three campaigns that it has a clean slate for the four. Its aggregate quota for the four loans was $2,417,330 and the total amount of subscriptions was $2,478,800, or 102 per cent.

Eight Wisconsin counties in the seventh federal reserve district failed to subscribe to the first four Liberty loans in amounts sufficient to put them over the top. Portage county, with 102 per cent, stands next to the lowest in the list of counties which subscribed their full quota, which is a conclusive refutation of any charge that may be made to the effect that the county has been asked to do more than its share. That the county has not been "bled" can be readily seen by a glance at the official statistics sent out from Liberty Loan headquarters in Chicago. These show that practically all Wisconsin counties in this district subscribed a larger percentage of their aggregate quota than did Portage county. Kenosha county has a record of 186 per cent, Racine county 156 per cent, Fond du Lac county 145 per cent, Outagamie and Waupaca counties 139 per cent, Milwaukee county 146 per cent, Brown county 131 per cent, Marathon county 120 per cent and Wood county 123 per cent.

J. R. Pfiffner, county chairman, and F. W. Leahy, publicity chairman, attended the Liberty Loan conference at Chicago last week, when Carter Glass, secretary of the treasury, was present and delivered an address. Mr. Glass stirred up enthusiasm to a high pitch, emphasizing the need of the Victory loan to "Finish the Job." He said that it was the nation's duty to subscribe liberally to the forthcoming loan regardless of the fact that bonds of the first issues may be selling below par. "Lives were below par in the Argonne," Mr. Glass declared.

The new loan will be for five or six billion dollars, but the interest rate has not yet been announced. Based on a six billion loan, Portage county's quota would be from $860,000 to $1,060,000. Chairman Pfiffner, while at Chicago worked for a reduction of the county's allotment and met with much encouragement. The county's quota in the fourth loan, which was for six billion, was $1,060,000, which represented 1.06 percent of Wisconsin's quota in the district. Quotas are determined by reference to population, assessed valuation and bank deposits, capital, undivided profits and surplus. According to the official statistics pertaining to the allocation of county quotas, Portage county has an assessed valuation of $33,056,481; a population of 32,115, and total bank footings of $4,784,916.

The new loan will be floated during the period beginning April 21 and ending May 10.

BUILDING NEW BUNGALOW

Irwin Lutz has begun the erection of a bungalow containing six rooms on the lot just south of his father's home at 1103 Church street. The structure will be built over a full basement in which will be installed a furnace. Isaac Johnson is in charge of the work, which will take a couple of months to complete.

COUNTY IS PROSPEROUS

Great Gain in Bank Deposits Reported For First Two Months of the New Year

That Portage county is amply prepared financially to do its share to make the forthcoming "Victory" Liberty Loan a success is indicated by the fact that deposits in the eleven national and state banks of the county increased more than a half million dollars during the first two months of 1919.

The official statements of the various banks showing their condition on December 31, 1918, listed deposits that aggregated $3,967,723.95. Similar statements as of March 4, 1919, showed a gain in deposits for the period of a little over two months of $577,580.24, the deposits on March 4 aggregating $4,545,304.19. This is a splendid showing, which reflects the prosperity of the county.

The table below lists the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits and deposits of each of the eleven banks of the county as shown in the March 4 report:

Bank	Capital	Sur. & Und. Profits	Deposits

GET JERSEY HEIFERS

Two pure bred Jersey heifers have been delivered to two Portage county boys by the First National bank of this city. Those receiving the calves are Edward and Michael Potrukus, brothers, of Bancroft route 1.

HAS SLEEPING SICKNESS

Arvin D. Allen, who resides on a farm 10 miles from the city of Wausau, is at St. Mary's hospital, Oshkosh, a victim of sleeping sickness. Mr. Allen, who is about 45 years of age and has a wife and five children, suffered an attack of influenza, which was followed by the strange malady with which he is now afflicted. He went to sleep two weeks ago last Friday and has been at the hospital since a week ago Friday. He lies motionless in his bed with scarcely a trace of life and is kept alive by liquid foods. Little or no hope is entertained for his recovery. George W. Allen of this city, a brother of the afflicted man, has visited him at the hospital and Mrs. Ben Finch has been at Oshkosh assisting in his care.

CONVENTION AT WAUSAU

Stevens Point Delegation Goes to Readjustment Meeting—Broken Car Causes Delay

Judge Byron B. Park, T. H. Hanna, C. S. Orthman, A. M. Capps, Chas. H. Cashin, Robt. K. McDonald and John H. Finch drove to Wausau last Monday to attend a so-called "readjustment" convention held under the auspices of the state university extension division. The gathering was a "frost" so far as attendance from outside towns was concerned. Stevens Point furnishing the only delegation. The program was carried out almost entirely by university men and several able addresses were delivered.

When the Capps car was about to start on its homeward journey yesterday morning, discovery was made that one of the rear axles had broken and upon closer examination at a garage it was found that the other axle was also out of commission. New parts were put in and the Pointers left Wausau at 1:30 p. m., reaching home a couple of hours later.

Judge Park remained to give testimony in the Thos. Salisbury trial, the defendant being charged with shooting John Roberts, former district attorney of Wood county. Mr. Cashin is also attending to legal business there.

NOT SLEEPING SICKNESS

The condition of J. E. Paine, 1002 Main street, who was suspected of having the so-called sleeping sickness, shows no improvement and he is still very weak. His illness has been diagnosed as not due to sleeping sickness, however, and hopes are entertained for his recovery.

SUBMITS TO OPERATION

Mrs. John Van Order of the town of Hull, who has been seriously ill for several weeks, was taken to Green Bay last Thursday afternoon and the following morning underwent an operation at the Deaconess hospital in that city. The operation was a success and Mrs. Van Order is reported improving nicely. She was accompanied to Green Bay by her husband and her sister, Mrs. Nelson Winslow, of Abbottsford.

RELIC OF CHATEAU THIERRY

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bourn have received from their son, Leslie Bourn, who is a member of Battery B, 120th Field Artillery, a novel souvenir of the world war and of the battle of Chateau Thierry. It is in the form of a vase, made from the empty brass case of a French 75 M. M. shell. The case was picked up on the battlefield, where it was ejected after its contents had been fired at the Huns. It stands 13 3/4 inches high and was made attractive by designs representing the United States coat of arms and the status of liberty, done by the "hammered brass" process. It also bears the inscription, "U. S. Army in France."

POULTRY MEN ELECT

The annual meeting of the Stevens Point Poultry association was held in the office of the president, Dr. W. W. Gregory, on Tuesday evening of last week. R. K. McDonald, M. E. Bruce, F. D. Reynolds, J. J. Normington, Henry Bergholte, Julius Falkiewicz, Jr., and Vincent Shafanski were elected directors. The former officers were reelected, as follows: President, Dr. W. W. Gregory; vice president, J. J. Normington; secretary-treasurer, F. J. Blood. It was voted to affiliate with the American Poultry association and to hold next season's local show the second week in December, 1919. Stevens Point is in a circuit with Wausau, Manawa, Wausau and Wild Rose and Wausau will have the first show the last week in November. Shows will be held every other week thereafter until all have been run off.

TRAINS BACK IN MAY

Soo Line Passengers, Taken Off as War Measure, to Resume Runs in Near Future

Positive announcement that Soo line passenger trains No. 5 and 6 will be restored to service on Monday, May 5, has been made by C. E. Urbahn, superintendent of the northern district of the Chicago division.

Five and six were taken off as a war-time economy measure on January 26, 1918, and there has been an insistent demand ever since for their restoration, especially since hostilities were concluded. Being day trains that handled a great volume of local business, they were greatly missed and their restoration will be a great step toward bringing train service back to pre-war conditions. It was expected that they would be back in April, but for some reason the later date was decided upon.

No. 5, northbound, formerly reached Stevens Point at 5:24 p. m., but it is probable, Supt. Urbahn told The Gazette, that when it is put back it will arrive an hour earlier. No. 6, southbound, will probably reach here at the same time as before, 10:10 a. m. There has been some consideration given to the idea of running the two trains between Chicago and Minneapolis, but it is now practically decided that the old run, between Chicago and Eau Claire, will prevail.

No. 5 and 6 are all-steel trains, with a cafe car included in their equipment. They were not run on Sundays under the old schedule and will not when they are restored.

RELIEF IS SOUGHT

At the council meeting to be held next Wednesday evening a petition will be presented from residents in the neighborhood of Main and Division streets asking that the surface drainage at this corner be improved by building a new catchbasin or fixing the one now in use. A patient class of people live in that neighborhood but even they are provoked by the frequent flooding of cellars and basements.

OLD RESIDENT EXPIRES

Abner Day, a man about 70 years of age who had lived in Portage county most of his life, died at the Northern asylum at Winnebago Monday. Mr. Day formerly lived in Belmont and for several years was in New York state. He returned here about a year ago and a few months later was committed to the county farm at Amherst Junction. On March 10 he was removed to the asylum. Mrs. J. W. Evans of Fond du Lac, a former resident of Stevens Point, is a sister of the deceased, and Frank Day, who is now living in the town of Linwood, is a brother. Mrs. Evans has arranged to have her brother's body buried in Stevens Point. It will arrive here on Soo line train No. 11 Thursday afternoon and will be taken direct to Forest cemetery, where Rev. James Blake will officiate at burial services.

FLAG THEFT CHARGED

Dewey Man Alleged to Have Stolen Emblem From School and to Have Assaulted Teacher

John Literski of the town of Dewey, whose chief claim to distinction is that he occasionally drives to the city with a team of oxen, is "in bad" with the law.

Last Friday afternoon Miss Myrtle Burk, teacher in the school in district No. 4, Dewey, forgot to take down the flag that was flying from the staff over the building. The next day it was noticed that the flag was gone and Literski was suspected. It is said that he went to one of the officials of the district and offered to return the flag if given a reward of $1, but his offer was turned down. On Monday Miss Burk, accompanied by two or three pupils of the school, called at the Literski home and demanded the flag. Literski, it is alleged, greeted her with a flow of language that was decidedly inappropriate, to say the least, and proceeded to strike her with a stick of wood. Miss Burk retreated after the attack upon her and reported the incident to John Dulak, school director. The result was that Mr. Dulak and Miss Burk came to the city Tuesday and swore out two warrants for Literski's arrest. One warrant charges assault and battery and the other petty larceny. There is no evidence to show that Literski desecrated the flag so that prosecution on this charge seems out of the question. The warrants are returnable in Justice Park's court.

Literski is a town charge of Dewey.

GET HOLSTEIN HEIFERS

Four Holstein heifers, from Jefferson county, were received Tuesday by the First National bank, to be turned over to two boys and two girls of the county, for whom they were ordered. Those who will take the calves are Esther Newby, Bancroft route 1; Guy Newby, Bancroft route 1; Peter Ostrowski, Stevens Point, route 7, and Lucy Sharkowski, Stevens Point, route 7. Miss Newby is the girl who won first prize at the Stevens Point and Wisconsin state fairs last year on a Holstein heifer in the junior club class and came close to winning the grand championship at the Milwaukee show. Guy Newby, in addition to making arrangements to raise a Holstein heifer, has taken a pure bred Poland China brood sow.

Pfiffner, district attorney, will represent Portage county, Attorney General John J. Elaine the state and W. E. Fisher the Week estate.

Mr. Pfiffner will also represent the county in the drainage district case, which involves about $5,000 in past interest charges and penalties on taxes. It also involves the question of future tax payments. T. H. Hanna will appear for the drainage district. George F. Hebard, former county treasurer, is defendant only nominally as the action is directed against the county itself.

Mr. Fisher will also appear in the Gailey case, which involves settlement of an estate, and in the case of Hakes vs. the town of Pine Grove. Mr. Hakes was injured in an accident on a highway in Pine Grove and brought suit for damages. He was given judgment of $5,000 and costs in circuit court and the case was appealed by the town. The question of contributory negligence is expected to play an important part in the outcome of the case.

RETURNING FROM WEST

Mrs. W. E. Macklin, who has been at Monrovia, Calif., since last October, left Tuesday on her way home. She expects, however, to remain here only a short time and then return to Monrovia, where her daughter, Miss Marie, is a patient at a sanatorium. Miss Macklin, who also went west in October, is being benefited to a marked extent by the treatment she is receiving.

The gentleman may be off duty for several weeks.

CALLS TO ARKANSAS

H. D. White left here last night for Jonesboro, Arkansas, in response to messages announcing the serious illness of his younger son, Howard D. White, Jr., who suffered a relapse from influenza and is in such condition that fears are entertained for his recovery. Howard lived at the family home in this city for several years but since locating in the southwest has filled important positions as shorthand reporter, in which line he is classed as an expert. Scores of local friends will pray for his early recovery.

Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Lindores to Leave Stevens Point in April for Wausau County Town

Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Lindores, who have made their home in Stevens Point for many years, are arranging to move to Plainfield the middle of April. Mrs. Lindores has been in poor health for some time past and it is because of her desire to be with her relatives in Plainfield, which is her old home, that she has decided to leave Stevens Point. Her mother, Mrs. James Ingle, died last December 6, and her father is now making his home with Dr. and Mrs. Lindores. Mrs. Lindores also has a sister, Mrs. Frank Speas, and other relatives and numerous friends in Plainfield, where Dr. Lindores also has a large acquaintance.

The county board last fall voted an appropriation of $10,000 as the county's share of the cost of the improvement and the state will furnish an equal amount, making more than $20,000 in all. The road will be built this year.

Dr. Lindores has practiced his profession in Portage county, in Stevens Point and Plover, ever since being graduated from the Eclectic college of medicine at Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1887. DISABLED SOLDIERS CAN RECEIVE HELP

Representative of Government Department Looks Up Cases of Portage County Men

Moncena Dunn of La Crosse, special agent of the federal board for vocational education, spent a few days in Stevens Point prior to Tuesday afternoon investigating cases of discharged soldiers who were disabled in the line of duty. He secured information pertaining to about a dozen cases, action on which will be taken in accordance with what appears to be the remedy best suited to each individual case.

"I am grateful for the kindly assistance rendered me by the people of Stevens Point, especially the home service section of the Red Cross," Mr. Dunn told The Gazette. Mrs. E. G. Bach, secretary of the home service section, has given Mr. Dunn all available information regarding Portage county soldiers, gathered largely through the medium of post card questionnaires sent out through her department.

"While our boys were occupied in fighting on the western front, the people of the United States, through congress, passed the Smith-Seares act, which is intended to make every man who was injured in the service of the country as good or better, if possible, from the standpoint of earning power, citizenship and respectability than he was prior to entering the service," Mr. Dunn stated. "This, in most cases can be accomplished by education in some useful line. In a nutshell the idea is to give him valuable information which will make up for whatever has been lost by injury or disability incurred in line of duty."

"This great reclamation has been delegated to the federal board for vocational education, which has already organized an elaborate department known as the rehabilitation division. In this division there are 14 sub-divisions covering the United States. Wisconsin is in the Eighth division, with headquarters at Chicago, which comprises the states of Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan."

"The opportunity afforded disabled men is liberally financed by the United States government. Through the compensation division of the war risk insurance department each disabled man will undoubtedly receive compensation for his injury ranging from $3 to $20 per month, if he makes his claim within one year from discharge. This plan takes the place of the old pension system."

"As soon as a war-disabled man receives compensation from the war risk insurance department he is ready for such training by the federal board of vocational education as will best fit in with his previous experience, if that is possible. In certain cases a man may be so disabled that his vocational re-education must follow a line distinctly different from his previous experience. If a man becomes a compensated man through the war risk insurance department he can be put in training in a line selected by himself and the government in the most available place nearest his home. While he is in training and therefore not earning, he is rated by the war risk insurance department as totally disabled and receives $30 a month from that source and $35 more a month as advanced by the federal board of vocational training, which makes $65 in all, which a single man without dependents receives while in school or training. Men with dependents get more than $65 a month. The fact that a man receives training at government expense in order to become 100 per cent efficient will not result in changing the amount of his established compensation after he leaves training."

"There is nothing compulsory about a disabled soldier receiving training. Even if he has started in training he is privileged to discontinue such training at any time, and in fact may be asked to discontinue where it is evident he is not doing his part toward such education."

Mr. Dunn left the city Tuesday afternoon, but he or some other representative of the department will probably return at some future time. In the meantime any soldier desiring information on the subject or wishing to have his case reported to the proper authorities should call at the office of the home service section of the Red Cross, Rothman block, Stevens Point.

TRAGEDY AT FOND DU LAC

The following Saturday evening, April 5th, Ralph Dennis, who was recently American vice consul at Moscow, will talk on "Russia and Bolsheviki."

Students of the Normal will be admitted free to both numbers and a charge of 50 cents will be made to others for each entertainment.

FUEL CONSERVATION WORTH STRIVING FOR

W. E. Fisher, County Fuel Administrator, Makes Recommendations for Future

In his final report on fuel administration work in Portage county during the war, W. E. Fisher, county fuel administrator, recommended that campaigns for fuel conservation be made annual.

Under the heading of "Recommendations and Suggestions," Mr. Fisher said:

"We have but one recommendation to make. That is that the fuel administration be continued, or that some branch or department of the government create a permanent committee or commission on publicity with power to investigate fuel conditions and make reports and recommendations. It might be found desirable to later give such committee or commission further powers. There is no doubt but that the publicity campaigns carried on by the fuel administration in the last year and a half have resulted in a wonderful amount of fuel conservation. People have also become educated and informed upon improved methods of using fuel. Our committee has on hand a large number of pamphlets on fuel conservation, which we expect to hold and again distribute to the people of this community at the beginning of the next fuel conserving season. People will be interested in these subjects and will read them at such times of the year. Very many of the people will forget what they have learned and forget their resolutions to conserve coal before another season arrives. It is believed that an endless amount of good can be accomplished if campaigns for fuel conservation become annual."

Discussing the early closing of business houses, the report says:

"L. J. Seeger, secretary of the local fuel committee, is also secretary of the Stevens Point Retailers' association. Early in the winter of 1918, largely through his efforts, the retailers of Stevens Point agreed upon closing their business places at 6 o'clock in the evening in order to conserve fuel and light. When the request came later from the state fuel administrator that the local committee take up this subject locally it had been carried out almost completely through the efforts of Mr. Seeger, the closing hour being 6 o'clock p. m."

The following was devoted to "Price Fixing and Margins":

"There were no additions made by the local officers to the prices fixed by the fuel administration until after the opening of the season beginning with April 1, 1918. Retail gross margins for the county were fixed by the state fuel administrator after receiving recommendations from the local committee. The matter of delivery charges was left by the state fuel administrator to the county fuel administrator. The first order fixing delivery charges was made on July 18, 1918. By this order the delivery charge for coal was fixed at 60 cents per ton. A charge of 75 cents a ton had been made prior to this time by most of the dealers and a charge of 75 cents a ton was the usual charge made by independent contractors in delivering coal from the retailer to the consumer. Some of the local dealers made frequent complaints that this allowance for delivery was too small. Investigation showed that in most of the surrounding counties the delivery charge was 75 cents. The committee held one or two meetings with the fuel dealers and on Sept. 1, 1918, modified the order of July 18 by allowing a delivery charge of 75 cents per ton. This allowance as modified on Sept. 1 remained effective from the time when made until restrictions were removed by the fuel administration only a short time ago.

"There were no complaints made of overcharges during the season beginning April 1, 1918. There were several made during the winter of 1917-18. These were investigated, but found to be due to differences in freight rates and therefore legitimate."

In conclusion the report said: "The foregoing is not an extensive report, and it may bear indications of a lack of activity on the part of the local fuel administration in Portage county. However, a very large part of the work and activity of the fuel committee was the kind of work that was not done upon paper and work no permanent record of which was kept. We aimed to keep the public informed on all rulings and to see that the work of the administration was carried out. We had the hearty cooperation of the retail dealers of the county, and our experience with the dealers and with the people of the county on these subjects is a pleasant recollection because of the patriotic spirit in which everyone entered into the carrying out of the administration business."

VERY NEAR BORDER LINE

H. N. Warner, manager for the American Co-operative company at Arnott, was a visitor to this city on Monday. Mr. Warner is recovering from an illness of several weeks which almost carried him across the dividing line between here and hereafter, but a strong constitution enabled him to renew his lease on life for we trust, many years to come. The gentleman had a combination of ailments, including pneumonia, pleurisy, gallstones and one or two minor afflictions, in consequence of which he lost many pounds in weight. Mr. and Mrs. Warner have moved their household goods to their former home at Plover but Hod will continue to represent the A.C.A. interests at Arnott.

ORGANIZE STATE BODY

American War Veterans of Wisconsin is Name of New Organization
Being Formed

A meeting of the temporary executive committee of the proposed state organization of American War Veterans of Wisconsin was held Friday at Milwaukee. At this meeting, Col. John Turner of Mauston was elected president; Col. Marshall Cousins of Eau Claire, treasurer, and Lieut. Col. J. G. Salsman of Madison, secretary.

The officers are temporary and were also designated as the temporary finance committee. The idea is now to form locals in all places where about twenty-five soldiers have returned and perfect a temporary organization.

Then, in the early summer, when the men are back from overseas, to have those locals elect delegates to a state convention, which will then perfect a permanent organization for this state.

Already locals have been formed at Oconto, Appleton, Fond du Lac, Eau Claire, Milwaukee, Mauston, Sparta, Tomah, and a number of other towns. Steps will be taken to organize in Oshkosh and Neenah and Menasha in a few days.

In the temporary organization, there will be no membership dues or fees. A committee has been appointed to work out drafts for a constitution and by-laws to be submitted for action at the state convention. In the meantime, too, touch will be secured with elements in organizations forming in other states, so that in time an easy merger into a national association can be made. For the present, however, or until a large number of overseas soldiers are home and discharged, everything done will be purely of a tentative nature. The state Loyalty league will aid the proposed new organization with advisory assistance, its records, and with funds.

E. E. Hayes, conductor on the Soo line branches running from Marshfield to Greenwood and Grand Rapids, spent Sunday afternoon among friends in town. Mr. Hayes has been living at Greenwood for several years but a recent change may make it necessary for him to move to Marshfield.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wallace of Portage are visiting at the home of the gentleman's mother, Mrs. Ann Wallace, and among other local relatives. John conducted extensive logging operations in the vicinity of McCord, Lincoln county, last winter, and reports that there was almost continuous good sleighing from the first of January until the middle of last week.

TRAVELS IN THE AIR

Lieut. Paul F. Collins Has Novel Way of Viewing Famous French
Battlefields

Sightseeing in France by airplane is the novel experience of Lieut. Paul F. Collins of Stevens Point.

Lieut. Collins, whom illness kept from getting into action on the western front, has recovered his health and returned to duty. He belongs to the 638th aero squadron and is at present at the flying field near Toul. He was about to go to the front early last fall when he was stricken with a very severe case of the influenza, followed by nervous exhaustion. He received treatment in four hospitals in France before being discharged as fit for duty.

In a letter to his parents, Prof. and Mrs. J. V. Collins, under date of February 26, Lieut. Collins said:

"Continental rain, rain. Today the sun shone for the first time in weeks, and against the advice of most everyone I took my little spud and found a fairly dry spot on the field and got it off the ground, without breaking a propeller. You see when the field is wet and muddy, the mud flies into the propeller and splinters it, so flying is practically taboo, first because propellers are scarce and second if they had plenty they come at $100.

"The field is just west of Toul and the gas will last 2 1/2 hours. By referring to the map you can see how much country it was possible for me to cover in 2 1/2 hours. So as Irwin S. Cobb or any other popular writer would say:

My First Trip Over the Lines
First I circled over the field to get oriented and also to be sure of my motor, which was heating slightly. Then I flew north along the Meuse river to St. Mihiel. This country is very hilly and on top of every hill is a fort. The ground naturally is a net work of trenches and shell holes. Then I went on up to Verdun, following the lines to Pont a Mousson and down the Moselle river, then to Toul and back to the field.

The forts on every hill top looked to me impregnable. There are reserve trenches built all the way back to Toul and elaborate systems of defense that were never used. If it doesn't rain tonight, which it probably will, I am going on a regular expedition tomorrow. After I become thoroughly familiar with this whole country from the air will go in a car some day on a souvenir hunt.

"This little spud I had today was the fastest thing I have ever flown and very easy to handle. The clouds were low in patches and the water in them cuts the face, but nevertheless it was one of the most enjoyable rides I have ever taken."

W. F. Owen For County Judge

In asking the voters of Portage County to elect me County Judge for the ensuing term I am committing no offense.

The position is yours to bestow.

No man owns the office or has any right to it except by your choice.

The position is an important one and its importance and duties are increasing as the County becomes older.

The Judge of the County Court should be well qualified, fair and impartial and should have the strength and vigor to discharge the increasing duties.

I believe I have these qualifications. I have practiced law in Portage County for more than twenty years. I have no business or personal connections with any other lawyer or firm of lawyers. If elected I shall discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability.

I respectfully ask you to vote for me for County Judge.

Much has been written in different newspapers since a Mr. Lee of Texas is reported to have offered to give the city of Stevens Point $1,000,000 if the name would be changed. Many names have been suggested, including that of Wau-bee-ka-nish, but here is a better one and they don't have to change the name, only drop the last letters of Stevens and put "aint" after the "St," which would make it Saint Point. There are 171 other cities, villages and postoffices that begin with Saint in the United States, so all you would have to do now is to write it "St. Point, Wis.," and the change will follow.

Style

SOCIETY BRAND style, like a triangle, has three dependent sides; the first is attractive patterns woven into fine fabrics; the second is the smart design of the model; the third is the tailoring of the clothes.

Each side is perfectly developed to meet the other two; that's why the effect is a finished whole—and the longer you wear a Society Brand suit the better you'll know it.

ICE GOES OUT EARLY

Channel of Wisconsin River at This Point Cleared Last Thursday, March 20th

The channel of the Wisconsin river at this point was cleared of ice last Thursday, March 20, the earliest date, with two exceptions, since 1886, according to records kept by Herman Krembs, foreman at fire station No. 1.

The ice during the past winter did not grow to the usual thickness, which accounts, in part, for its early breaking up. Then, too, the blowing out of the old Jackson mill dam and the subsequent closing of the gates in the new dam, causing sudden changes in the stage of the water, weakened the ice, as did also the harvesting of ice at various places. Warm weather and rains did the rest.

The two years in which the river was cleared of ice earlier than this year were 1894 and 1903, in both of which years March 18 was the date. Dates for the last 10 years follow:

1918.....	March 26
1917.....	April 6
1916.....	April 2
1915.....	April 7
1914.....	April 1
1913.....	April 1
1912.....	April 4
1911.....	March 26
1910.....	March 21
1909.....	April 11

The break-up this year came suddenly, as only a few days before it went out the ice was sufficiently strong to support teams. As usual, the passing of the ice was accompanied by high water, which resulted in the overflowing of the lowlands on the west side and other low areas in and about the city. Gates in the new Consolidated dam here were raised to help relieve the flood conditions. The breaking of a boom near the mouth of the Big Eau Pline river near Knowlton, released a quantity of logs belonging to the John Week Lumber Co. of this city. Most of the escaped logs drifted into the boom north of the city, where they mixed with the loose ice that had gathered there. Sunday afternoon the logs and ice which had gathered inside the booms opposite the flag station known as Rocky Run started moving downstream with a noise that could be heard hundreds of feet.

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING

It is a Municipal Duty, Says Correspondent, Who Points Out Advantages

Editor Gazette:

Modern preventive medicine is based on the soundest of business principles, conservation of the raw product and economy of manufacture into the best possible finished article. Waste of material, its careless damaging and expensive production are not good business. The aim of preventive medicine is the use of the material at hand in building men and women who will be sound physically and mentally. It is a safe statement that were all private enterprises conducted on the principles pursued by many of our cities in their policies of health conservation, bankruptcies would be the order of the day.

In this field of preventive medicine we may not choose our material, sort it out and discard this or that supply but must accept all grades and as well as we may, weave it all into the finished product. This enforced necessity for careful choice means that we must put a price on each material unit—on human life—and select such method as will protect the largest number from waste. Experience has shown that the methods that permit of the closest supervision of each individual will bring the greatest measure of success. No agent for the scheme of this race betterment, has evolved more rapidly during the last generation than has the public health nurse. We have had police power, quarantine, badges and clubs, placards of all lines, pesthouses and warning flags but no health teachers for our over-crowded schools—the towns and cities full of eager pupils.

The fountain-head of community health or community sickness is the home and if I were asked to name the one greatest health asset of a community, I would say "the possession by its mothers of a working knowledge of disease prevention, their ability to protect their children from disease, evil influences physically, social and moral."

Our municipalities have not paid sufficient attention to the newer methods—they have lost sight of the fact that all the quarantine and fumigation to which a family may be subjected are not of as much protection to the community as the instruction of that family in the principles of contact infection, the most common mode of spreading disease. The public health nurse should be retained by the municipal authorities. Volunteer nurses in critical times are as wise as volunteer fire departments.

That in education lies the great future of preventive medicine is sound policy we now know from experience. Its adoption by our health departments must therefore make for administrative economy. Through the school we must educate the home; the health unit, which makes our health—the health of all of us—rise or fall according as there is even one ignorant family in the community. Cooperation must give place to co-operation and to accomplish this we must carry our activities to the school and the home—to motherhood—and we must do this through the nurse.

Mrs. Gray of Lanark Receives Letter Telling of Resting Place of Her Soldier Son

The following letter was received last week by Mrs. Elizabeth Gray of Lanark concerning the burial place of her son, John E. Gray, a former corporal in Co. E, 107th engineers, who made the supreme sacrifice while serving his country on the French battlefields:

My dear Mrs. Gray:—I am sending you a leaf from the place where your son is buried in Allery, on the plains of the Saone, et Loire. His grave is No. 361. The French villagers have a beautiful custom of decorating the little cemetery. Each grave is registered with and will be cared for by the graves registration bureau of the A.E.F. and is marked with a cross.

John died of diphtheria on the afternoon of Nov. 25th, at 2:15. He had been determined to get well and put up a brave fight for his life. In the end he knew that he was dying and had the priest prepare him to go. He spoke of his home, but he left no definite message. He prayed often.

Any personal belongings that the men bring here are taken in charge by the hospital authorities and are by them sent home through the proper military channels.

M. O. WROLSTAD DEAD

Former County Treasurer and Prominent Citizen Dies at Hospital in Marshfield

Martin O. Wrolstad, former treasurer of Portage county and one of the county's prominent citizens, died at St. Joseph's hospital in Marshfield last Friday. Mr. Wrolstad, about two months before his death, was injured when thrown from a sleigh, while at Iola, and had since been under medical care. The injuries he suffered were of a serious nature, including a broken hip, and he was taken to Marshfield for an operation. Subsequently he suffered a paralytic stroke, which, with complications, resulted in his death.

Mr. Wrolstad was a native of New Hope township, where he spent practically his entire life. His parents, natives of Norway, were pioneer settlers of New Hope, coming there by ox team and purchasing a tract of 280 acres. There they erected a little log cabin, which served as the family home for many years. The father died June 27, 1884, and his wife two years later.

Martin Wrolstad was born February 2, 1856. He obtained a common school education in his home town and then entered the Waupaca High school where he was a student six months. He then worked for a number of years in a saw mill started by his father in what is now Alban township. When Alban was organized as a township he was elected its first clerk, but at the end of the year returned to New Hope. He was married to Miss Hannah Wrolstad at Scandinavia December 15, 1881.

Mr. Wrolstad was a progressive farmer and a respected citizen. He was at numerous times honored by election to public office, having at various times been town chairman and supervisor. He was also postmaster at Peru, in this county, for a time, having been appointed to that position in 1884. In politics Mr. Wrolstad was a Republican and it was on that ticket that he was elected county treasurer in 1898 and reelected in 1900.

The funeral was held from the Lutheran church at Benson's Corners Monday afternoon, Rev. Christian Hoel officiating, and was largely attended. Those from Stevens Point who were present were Judge John A. Murat, L. R. Anderson and L. J. N. Murat. The body was laid to rest in the nearby cemetery.

ORGANIZE SOCIAL CLUB

A social club, called the "Jordan Young People's Club," has been organized by the pupils in the observation school in district No. 2, Hull, where Miss Mary Mateofsky is teacher. It has 20 members, with the following officers: Edmund Hinka, president; Anna Betka, secretary; Frank Betka, treasurer. The club will meet every two weeks and is planning to give a play shortly after Easter, rehearsals for which are now in progress.

BUNGALOW AND GARAGE

Dan Corlett Will Also Make Extensive Improvements on His Main Street Home

Daniel Corlett has moved a barn from the rear of his lot at 822 Main street to another lot just north and abutting on Normal avenue. A stone and cement foundation will be put under the structure and the building transformed into a modern bungalow of seven rooms, equipped with furnace heat, light, water and other conveniences. The carpenter work is in charge of Wm. Jacobson, who is classed as an expert in this line. As soon as the new home is completed, it is the present plan of Mr. and Mrs. Corlett to move there temporarily while a second story is being put on the house they now occupy, thus adding an apartment which will be offered for rent.

Another improvement just undertaken by Mr. Corlett is the erection of a cement block garage, 12x40 feet, which occupies a portion of the site from which the barn was removed. The new building will have sufficient room for the storage of two automobiles. It is being erected by Wm. H. James and the blocks were manufactured by John Peterson, whose plant is located on the Jacob Patch homestead.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

(Written, authorized and to be paid for at the rate of 5 cents per line by Marion E. Bannach, whose postoffice address is Stevens Point, Wis.)

To the Voters of Portage County:— I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of County Superintendent of Schools which I at present hold since last July by virtue of appointment by State Supt. C. P. Cary. Prior to July I served as supervising teacher in Portage county and had two years experience in a Training School for teachers and two years in the rural schools of Portage County. I am a graduate of the Stevens Point Normal school and attended Minnesota University.

For the past year I have earnestly endeavored to improve school conditions. With the generous and willing co-operation of school officers, patrons and teachers, much good has been accomplished, but much remains to be done. If elected I hope to make our schools what every father and mother wants them to be—places in which young people become honest, upright men and women, a credit to their parents, their community, our state and our nation. For this I ask your support on election day and at all times.

All women twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States can vote for County Superintendent. Yours very cordially, Marion E. Bannach.

C. H. McCreedy, who is employed by the Western Union Telegraph Co. in construction work at Camp Douglas, visited at his home here over Sunday.

MANY RECEIVE BONUSES

Numerous Portage county ex-soldiers have received their $97 bonus checks from Uncle Sam, while others, whose applications went in late, are "watchfully waiting." The bonus money to be received by Portage county men will aggregate approximately $300,000, practically all of which will be spent locally. Merchants are already feeling the effects of Uncle Sam's generosity to his fighting men, notably clothing merchants who fit the returning soldiers out in "civies."

MILWAUKEE MAN WINS

Stevens Point Fails to Place in Inter-Normal Oratorical Contest at Oshkosh

Wallace Hohm, representing Milwaukee, won first place in the Wisconsin inter-normal oratorical contest, held at Oshkosh last Friday evening. Irma Borchers of Whitewater was second, Charles J. Earens of Platteville third and Alfred Bergman of Eau Claire fourth.

Seven normal schools were represented in the contest, the others, in addition to the four named above, being Stevens Point, La Crosse and Superior. Oshkosh and River Falls were not represented. The winner of first place will represent Wisconsin in the interstate contest to be held at Cedar Rapids, Ia., in April.

Lawrence Hart was Stevens Point's representative at the contest, his subject being "Safeguarding American Democracy." He handled the problem of the aliens, telling that the American has not only privileges but duties and to safeguard the democracy of our country it would be necessary to do our duty as citizens by helping the foreigners on our soil.

The winning oration was on the topic, "Peace for All," and in it the speaker dwelt on the question of the league of nations, which, he said, must be adopted if the world is to be spared the ravages of future wars.

A delegation of students and faculty members from the Stevens Point Normal attended the contest, which was a fine success in every way.

HOURLY NURSING

In the opinion of many leaders in the nursing profession the day of the personal private duty nurse is on the wane. The shortage of nurses during the war and the tremendous extra demands brought about by the "flu epidemic" taught many nurses and the employing public a new trick. "Never again would I be content to go back to the old kind of nursing except in the most urgent cases," said one of the nurses employed by the Milwaukee Visiting Nurse Association. "Instead of confining my professional services to a single family of large means I now visit a half dozen or more patients of moderate means in a single day. In each of these homes I am able to render the most essential nursing services and teach some member of the family how to care for the patient between my visits."

"Hitherto many self respecting families of moderate means have been denied skilled attendance because it has cost from twenty-five to thirty-five dollars per week. By distributing my time among several families, each secures my best and most essential help at a cost of six or seven dollars or less per week. I am busy every minute; get variety; have more fresh air and sunshine, and am freed from the boredom that is part of the nursing of only partly sick persons or chronic invalids. Best of all, I go to bed each night happy in the consciousness that I have been of real service in many homes."

"In the past too frequently only the very poor and the rich have had the best medical and nursing attendance. The former got it through charity and the latter because they had plenty of money. "Hourly Nursing" is based on the idea of cooperation and pooling of demands and cost. I do not see why more small towns do not provide for the service and especially so, now, when so many of the returning Red Cross nurses will be anxious to stretch their professional services ability to as many families as possible."

KRUEGER TRIAL OPENS

The case of Mrs. Caroline Krueger and her sons, Frank and Leslie, charged with murder, was called for trial in circuit court at Neillsville Monday before Judge James O'Neill. The trial is the aftermath of the battle at the Krueger farm last September, when a posse of federal agents went to arrest the Krueger boys for alleged failure to respond to the army selective law. So Station Agent Henry Jensen, Withee, a member of the posse, was killed and five persons were injured, including Frank Krueger, who surrendered. Later Ennis Krueger was shot to death by a deputy. Leslie was captured in the west, taken to Camp Grant, but turned back to the state authorities.

Thirteen hours' devotion was conducted at St. Joseph's church last Sunday when Father Ehr was assisted by Revs. Ulrich of Appleton, Bartelme of Custer and several of the local clergy.

Filters Don't Stop Influenza

Recent researches, conducted by MM. Nicolle and Lebailly of the Pasteur Institute of Tunis have proven that the microbe of influenza is what is known as a "filter passer"—that is, it is so small as to pass through any filter, no matter how minute the interstices may be.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters:

(a) A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have endorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking the ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for.

(b) A voter shall mark his ballot by making a cross or mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom he intends to vote or by inserting or writing in the name of the candidate.

(c) The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

(d) After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed endorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen.

Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot as placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.

(e) A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion as to such person's disability.

(f) The following is a facsimile of the official ballot.

SHIP DRAFT RECORDS

Portage County Board of Exemption
Forwards Official Papers to Washington

There were no tears wasted by the members of the Portage county exemption board Monday, when the draft records of the county, including registration cards, questionnaires and all correspondence and other records pertaining to every individual case were carted away for shipment to Washington.

The records had been classified according to government instructions. The classification records were shipped by express, while the balance, comprising the great bulk of the records, were sent by freight. The freight shipment included 25 boxes and weighed 2,225 pounds. Each filing case was bound and sealed, then wrapped in waterproof paper and packed in a specially constructed box. At Chicago these boxes will be assembled with similar shipments from other draft boards and all will be forwarded to Washington in carload lots. At Washington they will be filed away in the government archives as relics of the great war and will be referred to only in case of necessity in securing information relative to the records of drafted men.

The local board, in anticipation of orders to turn over the draft records, had made a list of all registrants and of all men inducted under the selective service law, for historical purposes. The total number of men actually inducted was 963, some of whom were subsequently turned back for various reasons.

CABLES FROM BORDEAUX

Lancelot A. Gordon, soldier-candidate for the office of superintendent of schools of Portage county, cabled from Bordeaux last week that he would qualify for office if elected. The message was directed to A. E. Bourn, county clerk, who received it on Friday. "Will qualify superintendent schools if elected," was all the message said.

AT MILWAUKEE MEETING

Dr. J. W. Coon, medical director at River Pines sanatorium, attended the tenth annual meeting of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association at Milwaukee last week. Dr. Coon was acting president of the association, which has led the fight in Wisconsin against tuberculosis for many years past. Among the speakers at the meeting was Donald B. Armstrong, health expert from Framingham, Mass., said to be one of the healthiest communities in the world. Dr. Armstrong complimented the Wisconsin association on the splendid work it has been doing in combating the great white plague.

WILL INCREASE MEMBERSHIP

Stevens Point Lodge No. 641, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, at its meeting last Wednesday evening decided to inaugurate a campaign for new members. C. W. Eagleburger was appointed chairman of the campaign committee, which is preparing to enlist the services of every member of the lodge, in carrying out the work. Similar campaigns are being conducted by Elks' lodges in all parts of the country. The Elks have a distinctly American organization, which has done a great deal of valuable patriotic work since the United States declared war on Germany. It is now lending its support to peace time problems in connection with returning soldiers, as outlined in The Gazette last week, when a contribution by the order of $150,000 for extension of vocational training for disabled soldiers, sailors and marines was announced.

MAKING TAX RETURNS

The treasurers of the various local units in Portage county have made their annual tax returns to County Treasurer Earl Newby. The rolls were due in the county treasurer's office Saturday, but it is customary to give treasurers extra time to make their returns, owing to the fact that it would be impossible to take care of them all in one day. The county treasurer checked up fifteen rolls Saturday and finished up the first of this week. It is a significant fact that the total of delinquent taxes on lands in the Portage County Drainage district is this year less than any year since County Treasurer Newby has held office. In the town of Plover only $62.62 in delinquent taxes on drainage district lands was reported, while in Buena Vista the amount was less than $1,000 and in Grant a little over $3,000. Last year $4,000 in delinquent taxes on drainage land was reported from the town of Buena Vista alone.

ADOPT MOOSEHEART PLAN

The training school for boys, to be established in the abandoned wartime barracks at Toledo University will be patterned after the industrial department of the great educational system at Mooseheart, Ill. The Loyol Order of Moose, which maintains Mooseheart, where the children of deceased members of the order are given a life training, is said to be the first to successfully conduct an industrial school, which has for its purpose the adaptation of education to industrial needs. Mooseheart is pre-eminently the exponent of vocational education, according to E. J. Henning, past supreme dictator of the supreme lodge. Industrial courses are a feature of the Mooseheart vocational system. One of the largest buildings of the institution is devoted to classes in painting, machine shop, carpenter work, mill work, drafting and electrical laboratories. Other branches of the system include art stone and concrete furniture, art or trim stone, garden furniture and cement making. In addition children are given horticulture, agriculture, printing, plumbing, commercial, garage and pre-electrical courses.

ORDERED TO HAITI

Howard Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Wells and brother of Mrs. W. E. Atwell of this city, has been ordered from Galveston, Tex., to Haiti with a contingent of United States Marines. The young man is a sergeant in the Marine Corps. He enlisted in June, 1917, trained at Paris Island, S. C., and has since been stationed at Guantanamo, Cuba, and Galveston. After being denied the opportunity of seeing service overseas, he made efforts to secure a discharge. Supporting affidavits, submitted by the Sinclair Oil & Gas Co., of Oklahoma, by whom he was employed before entering the service, reached Galveston a few hours after he had received orders to go to Haiti. He will sail early in April.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY

Julius B. Grubba, Janitor of West Side School, Dies After Short Illness

Julius B. Grubba, for many years a resident of Stevens Point and well known in the community, died unexpectedly at his home, 326 Washington avenue, at 4:45 o'clock last Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Grubba was janitor of the Jackson school on the West Side and he went to the building Thursday morning to attend to the furnace. He had not been there long when he was taken with pains in his stomach and concluded to return to his home. He then went to the residence of John Flaig and requested the latter to take his place for the day, returning then to the school. When Mr. Flaig reached the building he found Mr. Grubba in agony and summoned a physician. Mr. Grubba was then taken home and seemed to improve slightly. An hour or so before his death, however, there was a change for the worse. His death was a shock to members of his family and friends, for prior to Thursday there was no indication that he was in danger. He had occasionally complained of stomach disorders, but it was not suspected that this trouble was at all serious.

Born in German-Poland, Mr. Grubba came to this country when 14 years of age and came direct to Stevens Point with his parents. He was a carpenter contractor for many years, one of the buildings he erected being St. Peter's school on the North Side. He had been janitor of the Jackson school two years, succeeding his son, Frank. His wife, who was Miss Alexandra Werachowski of Annett, died nine years ago. A daughter, Miss Frances Grubba, at home, and a son, Frank Grubba, city, survive. He also leaves two brothers, Albert F. Grubba of Carson and Joseph Grubba of Hurley.

The funeral was held Monday morning from St. Peter's Catholic church, with burial in the parish cemetery.

THE CREATION OF RUSSIA

When the Lord was designing Creation
And laying out oceans and lands,
With never an hour's relaxation,
Nor a moment to spit on His hands,
As any one will, in a hurry,
He let things get by now and then
In all the excitement and worry,
What he should have done over again.

So rather to mess up the outfit,
He saved every blunder and blot,
And laid them aside in the corner
To use at the end of the job.

And the sixth afternoon of the contract—
His bonus expiring that day—
He bailed out the dregs of creation,
And shoveled the litter away;

And scrapped all the wreckage and tailings,
And the sewage and scum of the map,
And he made on the shores of the Arctic
A great international dump.

He rushed the thing thru in a hurry,
And because of this rush he was in
He named the locality Russia—
And Russia it always has been.

And then feeling grum and sarcastic,
Because it was Saturday night
He spotted the nastiest corner,
And called it Archangel for spite.

It is there they do everything back-ward,
And the mud doesn't dry between rains,
Where money and sawdust are plenty
And thievery's better than brains.

It's the home of the Wop and the Bohunk,
The herring and mud colored crows—
My strongest impression of Russia,
Got into my head thru my nose.

It's the land of the informal orders,
The land of the national smell;
The average American soldier,
Would sooner be quartered in hell.

It's back to the states for yours truly,
I'm not wishing anyone ill
But Russia can hang for all I care,
And truly I reckon she will.

Yes, its back to the states for yours truly,
A sadder but wiser young chap,
The Lord played a joke on creation,
When Russia was dumped on the map.

GOING TO CAMP CUSTER

Miss Henrietta Casler, director of the art department in the Stevens Point Normal, will leave early in April for Camp Custer, Mich., to engage in educational work among wounded soldiers returning from France. Miss Evelyn Oster of this city is engaged in similar work at Camp Meade, Md.

Repairs on the building have been made and new and repaired machinery is being installed. Nelson is manager of the plant.

the difference between so-called "cheap paint" and strictly Pure White Lead and Linseed Oil?

YOU Buy Cheap Paint. It takes longer to put it on because there are ingredients in it that don't "brush out" right. It will not go as far because it is not ground as fine. It doesn't last as long because Adulterated Oil and Lead has not the wearing qualities. Nothing so good as the St. Paul's Lion Brand Pure White Lead and Linseed Oil Paints.

ACTION TO FORECLOSE ON MORTGAGE BONDS

L. P. Moen Appointed Receiver for National Brewing Co. in New Court Proceedings

Foreclosure proceedings have been instituted in circuit court in behalf of the holders of first mortgage bonds of the National Brewing Co. (formerly the Polish Brewing Co.). The company's plant has not been in operation for the past two years and its affairs have been in the hands of John J. Bukolt, S. H. Wozzalla and Barney Polebitski. Last week L. P. Moen was appointed receiver by Judge B. E. Park.

At the time the brewery was closed there were three separate mortgages on the property as well as other debts owing by the company and represented by notes and open accounts. As there were three separate mortgages or trust deeds on the property there were three trustees, each charged with protecting the rights of the bond holders under the trust deed which created his trusteeship. In order that those interested might be protected it was deemed necessary, when the directors could no longer operate the brewery, to apply to the court for the appointment of trustees who would protect the interests of the stockholders and creditors so far as it was possible. Messrs. Bukolt, Wozzalla and Polebitski were appointed in this capacity.

If it had been possible to dispose of the property for enough money to pay the taxes and three bond issues it would then have been the duty of these trustees to apportion any surplus which might be obtained among the remaining creditors and, in case there was enough to pay the creditors in full, any balance would then be apportioned among the stockholders. The trustees have made every possible effort to secure a price for the property which would enable them to make at least a small payment to creditors, but that has been impossible and events of the last few months indicate that it is useless to proceed further with the trusteeship in the hope of securing any payment for creditors or stockholders in excess of the amount due on the bond issue.

This is shown by the fact that the bond holders themselves are willing to sacrifice a large proportion of their investment in order to secure payment of a portion of the amount due them. In order to protect the property it is necessary to maintain the fire insurance, which requires the presence of a watchman if the insurance is to be valid in case of loss. It is also necessary to make payment of taxes or the property will be subject to tax deed. The trustees for the creditors and stockholders are not authorized to incur indebtedness which will take precedence of the mortgage liens. All funds which they had available for this purpose have been used and they have even advanced personal funds to keep the insurance in force.

Under these conditions there was nothing further that the trustees could do unless the bond holders themselves could agree on some plan of organization to make it possible to raise funds for this purpose. Efforts were made to secure such an organization, but nothing definite was accomplished. The trustees therefore have turned over the keys of the brewery to the trustees of the first bond issue, whose duty it is to maintain the insurance and taxes for the protection of the bond holders he represents. In this manner the receiver will have authority to employ watchmen, pay for insurance and incur other necessary expense to preserve the property. This will give protection against loss by fire or through the possibility of a tax deed being issued on the property.

Nothing in the action that has been commenced will prevent the bond holders from making any mutual agreements as respects the transfer of the interest of bond holders to a stock corporation for the purpose of bidding in the property at a foreclosure sale or any other sale which might be held in order to perfect the title.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Jahn and son, Albert, of Plover, visited in Stevens Point last Thursday. The Jahn family formerly lived in Elgin, Ill., having moved to Plover last July, when they purchased what is known as the old Herman farm.

Keep Troubles to Yourself.

Life for the vast majority of us is none too carefree. This trouble, or that disappointment, makes our world very cheerless at times; but dwelling upon our problems, elaborating upon our difficulties, or longing to share those unpleasant realities with others, will not aid us one iota. We, each, individually, must stand our own ground, and, if we are wise, refuse to be influenced by any unproductive moods.

Daily Thought.
His mind his kingdom and his will his law.—Cowper.

Easy to Avoid Worry.

Worry may be compared to any deadly disease and its victims are innumerable. And if we don't want to become one of the unhappy throng we must, wherever our lines are cast, adapt ourselves to circumstances. Airing our grievances and literally looking for more will inevitably result in our becoming downright miserable.

Metric Denominations.

The metric denominations and values for measures of capacity are as follows: Kiloliter or stere, 1,000 liters, equals one cubic meter; hectoliter, 100 liters, equals one-tenth of a cubic meter; dekaliter, ten liters, equals ten cubic decimeters; liter, equals one cubic decimeter; deciliter, one-tenth of a liter, equals one-tenth of a cubic decimeter; centiliter, one one-hundredth of a liter, equals ten cubic centimeters; milliliter, one one-thousandth of a liter, equals one cubic centimeter.

More Than Figure of Speech.

Did You Ever Do This?
Visitors or strangers coming into an office are often embarrassed by the discourtesy of office employees who ignore their presence—or wait for some one else to inquire the visitor's errand. Any employee who happens to be near when a stranger enters should address him courteously and ask if he can take a message or be of assistance. The visitor's impression of the employer often is affected by the attitude of the employee.—Biddy Bye.

Peter Hopley Says

that a man in good health with plenty of determination can make a success of any job IF HE LOVES THE JOB. Peter Hopley is 75 years old and has made a million dollars farming. He never lost a minute waiting for somebody's will to be read. He worked, saved his money and had GUMPTION in investment. If you don't love your job, chuck it. Better be a failure loafing than a failure working. No man can love a job that does not show a profit.

A big business or labor income isn't profit. Profit is the surplus that is yours after all bills are paid. It is the PROFIT that makes a man love his work. It is the non-profitable years that are the wasted years. Is your checking up this Spring going to show a profit or loss? You have got to face that thing.

Has there been any part of earnings set apart to the credit of PROFIT, more stock on the farm, more goods in the store, new equipment in the factory; MORE MONEY IN THE BANK? What is your present worth? Is it liquid in the Savings Department of this big bank, working for and with you?

Cold Kills Fish.

It has been proved that sudden cold sometimes causes the death of thousands of fish in the shallow waters of the tropics and subtropics. Many species are so chilled as to become helpless, and are either killed directly by drowning or are washed ashore in a comatose state. The phenomenon is known locally as "freezing," although the temperature of the water may be several degrees above the freezing point.

Making Americans.

If we will plant the children of our immigrants in American soil, give them American companions, teach them in the American language, let them breathe the American literature, discipline them in the American art of self-government, warm their hearts in the sunshine of American tenderness, sympathy and good fellowship, and always respect the nature which God has given them however it may differ from ours, they will grow up loyal, patriotic, devoted Americans.—Lyman Abbott.
